ABOUT THE TRAINING SESSION

An informative teacher training session focused on the use of original sources in teaching. This session is designed to help you harness the educational potential of primary sources, promoting a deeper understanding of history, culture, and critical thinking skills in your students.

WHY ORIGINAL SOURCES MATTER?

- Historical Immersion: Explore the past through firsthand accounts, manuscripts, and documents from various time periods.
- Critical Thinking: Equip your students with the skills to evaluate sources for reliability and potential bias, fostering analytical thinking.
- Lifelong Learning: Encourage curiosity and independent research skills that extend beyond the classroom.
- Preparation for Future Success: Empower students with research abilities applicable in higher education and future careers.

BENEFITS OF ATTENDING THIS CPD SESSION

- Explore Primary Sources: Gain insights into the diverse world of primary sources, from historical texts to contemporary documents.
- Source Evaluation: Learn how to assess the reliability and potential bias of sources to nurture critical thinking in your students.
- Practical Integration: Discover effective methods for incorporating primary sources into your teaching.
- Expand Your Teaching Toolkit: Access practical resources and teaching materials for immediate use.
- Network with Peers: Connect with fellow educators in an open and collaborative environment.
